These beautiful members of the Iris family create much interest whenever shown. They bloom along with the last of the tall bearded Iris. The flowers are very dainty on their slender stems. In the garden they excel for landscape purposes, and as cut flowers they are exquisite. Grow well in the sunny border or in partial shade, and are especially desirable for the edge of the pool. Plant quite deeply and feed liberally. All six varieties are named kinds, and they will be individually labeled for identification.

The first Iris of the spring belong to the dwarf family. They are the joy of the early garden, so colorful, so sure to grow, so fragrant. They are indispensable for the rock garden; very effective for the front of the border. We have selected 8 beautiful dwarf varieties, each distinctly different from the other, and all labeled for this collection. We know when they flower next spring they will be most pleasing.

HARDY PHLOX

"Dazzling"—Yes, that's the word which most nearly describes the newer Phlox — for they truly are dazzling. Planted in the perennial border or in a separate bed by themselves, they make a showing which adds much grace and charm to the garden. The splendid range of outstanding colors makes them all the more desirable.

EASY TO GROW

Phlox succeed well in most any sunny position. A little extra attention in the way of judicious pinching back and cutting off the faded flowers will make it possible to have a continuous succession of bloom until frost. Water copiously during blossoming season.

BREEDER TULIPS

Named Varieties — $1.00 doz. — $7.00 per 100
Mixture — .85 doz. — 6.00 per 100

This type is identical to the Darwins from the size of the flower to the time of blooming. Really the color range is the only difference between them, the Breeders having a wide, rich variety of pastel shades, while the Darwins carry the rich flaming colors. When these two types are planted together they make a gorgeous display. BRONZE QUEEN — Soft buff, inside tinged golden-bronze; a large flower of sturdy habits.

CARDINAL MANNING — Rosy-violet, flushed dull bronze. DON PEDRO — Finest deep coffee-brown with a narrow edge of golden-brown.

LOUIS XIV — Dark purple flushed with bronze, broad margin of golden-brown. Base is black, tinged green and starred with yellow. Surely a magnificent tulip.

LUCIFER — A bold gorgeous fiery-orange. Fine exhibition variety.

SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

Named Varieties — $0.85 doz. — $6.00 per 100
Mixture — .70 doz. — 4.75 per 100

The single early tulips are in a class by themselves. Few, if any, of the spring blooming flowers make a better showing. Their gay colors proclaim that "spring in all her glory has arrived." They are excellent for formal beds, in the borders, or when planted on either side of the front door. They do not make as large a bloom nor are the stems as tall as the Darwins, yet they are much desired because of their much earlier blooming qualities.

CHRYSLORA — Large flowers of pure yellow. Excellent for bedding because of their long lasting qualities.

COTTAGE MAID — White; edged with rose. An extra fine variety; splendid for bedding.

COULEUR CARDINAL — Brilliant crimson. Large fine shaped flower. One of the best.

DE WET — Deep orange, shaded golden-yellow at the base of the petals. Large, sweet scented flowers.

Hardy Chrysanthemums

Each year the Chrysanthemums give a gorgeous display of wonderful blooms. They come late in the season when flowers are usually quite scarce. They flower profusely even after frosts. By all means you should include a planting of these hardy Chrysanthemums in your garden. Plants should be protected for the winter with two inches of straw or some other loose material, not leaves, as these pack too tightly and will smother the plants. Each of the plants offered in this collection are a different variety. They are all very high grade, and we know they will be most pleasing.
